CHAPTER 1

AROUND the corner from the New York Tribune office, on Nassau street, in the middle tier of a small bookshop in a low two-story building where books were piled high on old volumes. The shelves or were crowded against the small, paneled windows. Dickens had passed there during his first movie visit to America. Many a wandering Englishman drifted in to turn over old volumes. The shop had a dim and singular character, yet its owner, a tall Lancashire man with an ironical look, drew from it only a meagre living.

John Crabtree enjoyed a more ample convalescence than that which had been completed and the heritage was concentrated in the small person of Mary Ann, his wife. Mary Ann lay down on a sofa in the room, and the little city with its air of industry. The two rivers merged close, the rolling heights of Brooklyn crowded upon the eye—in the lower reaches of

Then came years of triumph before the footlights, and the great actress was thriffty, beginning the great fortune she was to leave as one of the richest of all stage folk.

LOVED BY ALL
Miss Crabtree, as she appeared in the '70's, as fortune smiled more and more. She became the darling of a nation.

TRUE LADY BOUNTIFUL
Thus the sunshine of Lotta Crabtree's life keeps bright after her death, for she gloriously remembered the thousands of brave men maimed by the great world strife. They benefit by her generous will.

REMEMBERS VETERANS
Out of the glory and disaster that war is, came the vision of how she might best serve with her wealth. So Miss Crabtree left a vast trust fund, to aid the World War's disabled veterans.

BROKEN SKULLS KILLED BOSTON MAN, WOMAN

Worcester, Dec. 2 (AP)—The death of William Stuart of Boston and an unknown woman, whose bodies were found in the Lunenburg woods last week, were caused by fractures of the skulls, according to Medical Examiner Frederick H. Baker following autopsies which he and Medical Examiner D. Sidney Woodworth of the Fitchburg district performed here.

The fracture suffered by the woman was under a hole in her hat. A gold crown tooth in the front of the upper jaw was the only mark found on her that might lead to identification.

CLOT MAY BLOT OUT MEMORY OF ATTACK

A blood clot, developing today in the brain of John B. Morrell, judge in the home of Mrs. Hazel Williams, Linden st., Needham, gave rise to possibility that the story of an attack committed upon him may never be known.

Morrell, according to a disconnected story he told when found near the Williams home Friday, was set upon and beaten by three men, who had dragged him into the woods.

According to Dr. Brandon Thompson, the Morrell physician, today, Morrell may never recover his memory and unless his assailants are found the real story probably will be hidden for all time.

State detectives and the Needham police are working on the case.

"LOVE MURDER" TRIAL BEGINS

LADY HEATH IN PLEA FOR GIRLS TO FLY

Two projects in the interest of aviation—one to increase the number of capable pilots and lower the accident record; the other to spread love of aerobatics among the fair sex—were announced today by Lady Heath, England's foremost woman pilot, who is visiting in Boston.

She said a scientific foundation which makes aviation its chief concern will sponsor her idea of establishing prizes for the pilot instructors who turn in, in a given time, the most pilots able to pass successfully and without mishap, a test of 15 hours' solo flying.

This is the first disclosure publicly that she was planning to cooperate with Americans in such an endeavor.

National aviation clubs and flying schools throughout the world will be asked to help and to send in data regarding their students and their records.

The chief figure in the other project, she said, is a franchise who has offered $10,000 to establish 10 scholarships in the 11 largest cities of the United States for women who desire to learn to fly and who cannot afford to pay for schooling themselves.

All that is necessary on this matter is the signature of the banker who volunteered to provide the scholarships. Tests for applicants will be made on the ground and in the air and an investigation made of their financial status.

Springfield 'Puritan' Painted All in White

Springfield, Dec. 2 (AP)—Park department employees today removed a coating of white enamel paint that some time since Saturday night had been liberally applied to the bronze statue of "The Puritan," considered one of the masterpieces of August St. Gaudens, which stands in a small park facing the City Library in State st. The paint was removed with some difficulty but to the bronze, and the statue is now the color of the vandals who applied it.

The statue, nationally known and showing the stern-faced figure of the Puritan leader, in high hat and flowing cape, with Bible and staff, was erected by the late Chester W. Chapin in memory of Deacon Samuel Chapin, one of the founders of Springfield.

FIND AUTO MAN DEAD BEFORE GAS LOG

Springfield, Dec. 2—Edward O. Sutton, 57, one of Springfield's best known business men, was found dead today in the library of his home. Gas was pouring from an unlit fireplace "log." Medical Examiner Frederick D. Jones pronounced death accidental.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Sutton, who was awakened by the odor of gas sweeping into her room. Sutton was treasurer of the Knox Motor Company of Springfield. He had previously been manager of the Western Massachusetts office of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, N. Y., and was a graduate of Yale.

2 Cambridge Police Retired on Half-Pay

Chief McBride of Cambridge today announced the retirement of Patrolmen John J. Foley and William M. Andrew on half pay, $1055 a year. An order passed by the City Council authorizing the pensioning of the men was signed by Mayor Quinn.

Foley was injured in an auto accident some time ago while chasing a thief. Andrew was retired at his own request, having served nearly 20 years.

GORE, FORMER TENNIS CHAMP, DEAD AT 61

London, Dec. 2 (AP)—Arthur Wentworth Gore, former lawn tennis champion, died today at the age of 61. He had been ill since early this year.

Mr. Gore was the last Englishman to win the singles championship at Wimbledon. This was in 1903 and the following year he lost to A. S. Widding.

HUB WIDOW WHO WAS SLAIN IN MAIL ORDER COURTSHIP
Archie F. Mook went on trial in Spokane, Wash., today for the murder of Mrs. Katherine McGrath Clarke, above, Boston divorcee, near Fookills, Wash., last September. The body had been dragged to a spring and a blood-stained hatchet was found nearby. She had gone from Boston under promise of marriage made by a "James Murphy," who is alleged to have been Mook. Police found $1390, approximately the amount she was believed to have taken with her, buried at Mook's home.

DOGS' HEAVEN LOSES ONE; SUICIDE FAILS

An unidentified brown terrier pup, presumably finding this existence a dog's life after all, unsuccessfully attempted suicide today by jumping into the ferryboat Dartmouth.

The dog, which was the only one of the Dartmouth toll, was seen to jump into the water and was seen to be on the rail and jumped, they aver.

John L. Hanson, 25 and homeless, had to get himself arrested to get a job, but now, thanks to Newton police and Judge William Day of Newton, he's got his liberty, a job—and a dollar for food.

John reached the Newton police station early today, said he was hungry and penniless, and asked for a place to sleep. He was told he would have to be looked for by the police if he were to stay.

"Put me down on something up to murder," agreed Hanson.

John told Judge Day he had looked for work until he was discouraged. He was willing to plead guilty to vagrancy.

"Case temporarily continued," ruled Judge Day. "Send me the probation officer."

The officer was told to canvass the job situation. Within 15 minutes a vacancy had been found at the Hood Rubber plant, Waltham.

"Case placed on file," ordered Judge Day. "Get over to that job, young fellow. Wait just a minute. Here's a dollar. Don't go to work on an empty stomach."

John told Judge Day he had looked for work until he was discouraged. He was willing to plead guilty to vagrancy.

Picture of Other Woman Shown Court

A photograph of "another woman," a powderpuff, a lady's handbag and hairpins, which Mrs. Bertha P. Hadley of Main st., Winchester, declared she found in her husband's pockets, were produced by her today in Middlesex Probate Court in support of her suit for divorce from John E. Hadley, Hilly business man.

Mrs. Hadley is owner of an art shop on Washington st., Waltham. She charged cruel and abusive treatment, saying she left her husband two years ago. Hadley did not contest and Judge Beane took the case under advisement.

ANTIQUES EXHIBITION AT THE MOTOR MART TODAY

SMART SET TRIO WORKING HARD TO PUT OVER BENEFIT SALE
These matrons greatly concerned in the success and beauty of the Antique Exhibition at the Motor Mart Building, Mrs. Homans arranged an Italian garden; Mrs. Stevenson is responsible for the cleverly done entrance hall, hung in red brocades and Mrs. Richardson arranged several rooms, one specially lovely one done in golden yellow satin.

The Greener Collection on Sale for the Remainder of the Month for the Benefit of the North Bennet St. Industrial School

SPANISH ROYALTIES! SPANISH DANCERS! SPANISH ANTIQUES! THEY FOLLOW ONE ANOTHER IN THE SOCIAL SCHEME WITH KALEIDOSCOPIC RAPIDITY. The Infante and the Infanta have taken their royal departures. La Argentina flashes with meteor-like briefness across the local skies. But the Greener collection, fortunately, set out to benefit the North Bennet Street Industrial School, engages fashionable attention from today until the little new year of 1929 hobs up on freshly printed calendars. Nearly an entire month stretches ahead for lovers of the antique to browse amid the things they adore. It's not quite fair to the rest of Europe and the Tight Little Island to give Spain credit for producing every one of the age-old treasures in the collection. Mainly they are Spanish; but some were found in Portugal and in Provence; in Paris and in English villages. But no matter what part of the world they came from, their beauty and attraction is universal. They are set out in the Motor Mart Building in a manner to ravish the eye. And painstakingly to depict the pocket-book. Exchanging dollars for such treasures is a delightful pastime.

Corridor that visitors to today's private view may see something quite marvelous. Mrs. Shaw knows what's what in decorating and arranging and she's exercising on the gallery some of the perfect taste previously used in making her home in Sutton Place one of the prize establishments of that charmed spot.

THE TAPESTRY CORRIDOR

hosts some of the exhibit's choicest pieces, and at its end stands the piece de resistance of the entire collection, a magnificent old Moorish doorway all beautifully carved. Mrs. Henry Lyman and Mrs. Samuel Cabot arranged a salon that is mainly old Spanish doors and beautiful gilt mirrors, and Mrs. John Homans does the garden, with its fountains and charubs and pieces of ancient pottery. These last named three are on the committee, and so are Mrs. James Shaw of the Sutton Place establishment, Mrs. Richardson, who does the yellow salon, Mrs. John F. Perkins, Miss Ethel A. Forbes and Mrs. Roger Warner.

ONE CAN'T BUT BE AMAZED

at the tidily of Smart Set matrons, and made, too, who for many a day forewent the social round to labor lovingly in preparing the exhibition. Regardless of matinees, bridge, teas and luncheons, they work all day and every day at their imposed tasks, getting an enormous pleasure out of seeing a "Gothic room" or a French "peasant kitchen" recreated from the Greener richness of material. They only regret seems to be that days are not longer and space is exhausted in which new rooms and apartments may be set up. But, even so, the exhibition this season out-runs expectations, and is voted by every one a bigger and better show than has ever been staged.

FOR TODAY'S PRIVATE VIEW

the attendance was as smart as the hostess list, and that, of course, means something very smart indeed, so far as Boston is concerned. The governor and Mrs. Fuller and the lieutenant-governor and Mrs. Allen supply a measure of official patronage and probably, as in other years, shopped about a bit for certain pieces of particular appeal. Connoisseurs, each one, so it is a very choice selection that was laid aside marked "Fuller" or "Allen."

SO BRILLIANT A HOSTESS

list as that for the exhibition gives credit to the top degree. There's an overflow of Coddings, Lawrence, Paines, Parkers, Putnams, Forbeses, Cabots, Bradleys and Ames to supply stimulation. The name of Mrs. John Nicholas Brown gives prestige. Also that of Mrs. Francis Crowninshield, of Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, Mrs. Joseph Warren, Mrs. M. Grange Houghton, Mrs. Alan Cunningham, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Guy Cowell, Mrs. Gardner M. Lane, Mrs. Edwin B. Webster, Mrs. Sumner Pierpont, Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears and Mrs. Phyllis Shaw Sprague.

IT'S BUT A STEP FROM THE crimson entrance hall to magnificent extents of French blue satin brocade. Here the formal lines of dining rooms in English country homes and French chateaux are to be observed. Large gilt mirrors reflect the lustre of candles and enormous antique gilt chandeliers, and the gilt of finely polished woods. The rich blue of French and Spanish brocades surrounds all this with ancient beauty. Next in the sequence is an exquisite blue thing done in golden yellow, a salon dress arranged by Mrs. Frederic L. W. Richardson, and sure to be hurried in indignantly by the committee.

IN HER BRIGHT STRIPED ALL-ENVELOPING apron, Mrs. Richardson was the picture of industry as she arranged final details in the yellow salon and in the two French rooms over which she has supervision. An eye for the "right" thing and a way with period pieces are Mrs. Richardson's in great measure. If ever she were to set up shop it would be an artistic success from the very start. And her pretty daughter, Miss Margery Richardson, follows maternal example with a devotion to the school exhibition most grateful, and with pictorial results in a Gothic room most edifying to the beholder.

MRS. JAMES SHAW 80 DOTES on the exhibition she's doing a room for the second year, and this season actually commutes between her New York home and Boston. Unending hours she has put in arranging the Tapestry

ROTHSTEIN BET
ON HOOVER
CONVICT THREE YOUTHS FOR FALSE ALARMS

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Arnold Rothstein's winnings on the recent election would more than have paid the losses he sustained at the famous high stake poker game which led to his death, temporary administrators of his estate revealed today.

The Broadway gambler had placed $170,000 on Hoover and Roosevelt, the administrators said, which at the odds at which the money was bet would have won about $260,000. Rothstein was said to have lost $300,000 in the card game, giving him 1, 0, 11, to the winners. Failure or refusal to pay was given as the reason for the shooting.

Dist. Atty. J. H. Egan is concentrating upon a search for documents extracted from Rothstein's safe deposit boxes and from his home. For the moment this activity will eclipse the homicide angle, the evidence in which Mr. Egan has assembled into "a beautiful case of circumstantial evidence."

The missing documents, the district attorney said, connected Rothstein and persons in the high places with reprehensible activities. He would not name the persons nor describe the activities.

"The grand jury will take up this matter intensively," Egan said. "We know the documents have been stolen, and the grand jury will get the evidence we have."

With three indictments for murder decided upon, the grand jury to meet tonight to question "Tough Willie" McGee, who is held in $10,000 bail as a material witness in "Nigger Nate" Raymond, who had Rothstein's "paper" for $100,000 in gambling debts, and who is in jail under $100,000 bail, has provided Egan with information and the district attorney has indicated he will permit reduction of the bail to $10,000.

RUM-RUNNING FROM CANADA INCREASES

Washington, Dec. 3 (INS)—Liquor smuggling from Canada has increased 75 per cent in three years, according to a report today by Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general, declared today in the Justice Department's annual report to Congress.

Mrs. Willebrandt described the traffic as "immense." She gave Congress figures from the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce to show that liquor valued at $24,337,000 in the Dominion was of recently cleared for export to the United States at American prices that would be at least $75,000,000.

But the traffic is even greater than the figures indicate, she explained. "No one would estimate all of the liquor smuggled across the northern boundary passes through the Canadian customs," Mrs. Willebrandt said. The prevention of smuggling from contiguous or nearby foreign countries "continues to be one of our major problems."

Mrs. Willebrandt, however, found that the records of foreign ship seizures would indicate the smuggling traffic from the high seas through the aid of hovering vessels is diminishing. So far as the use of domestic vessels was concerned, however, there was an increase, 270 having been taken in the year ending June 30, as compared to 220 the year before.

OPEN THIS WEEK TO "TOURISTS"

WORLD'S BEST SALES AND SERVICE BUILDING
An auto tour through the new Cadillac Building was the substance of an invitation issued to the public by the automobile concern. The touring period opened today and will last for the remainder of the week. Visitors who do not care to ride through the building, which is equipped with the modern ramp system, can park their autos on the grounds.

CADILLAC PLANT OPEN TO PUBLIC FOR WEEK

Taking advantage of a unique invitation, visitors today "toured" through the new Cadillac building at Commonwealth ave. and Essex st., opposite Cottage Farm bridge, driving their own cars and taking use of a modern ramp system, for there are no elevators in the structure.

Besides this novel journey over 250000 people the visitors were permitted to park their cars on the grounds, where 250 vehicles can be accommodated, and make a detailed inspection of the building.

The structure is the most complete, modern and luxurious automobile sales and service establishment in the world and is the result of extensive study by Fred A. L. Sinclair, with the aid of many experts, who aimed at raising a plant without cost for sale and service of Cadillacs and LaSalle by the Cadillac Automobile Co. of Boston.

The invitation to visit it covers the entire week, and those making use of the opportunity are seeing the realization of a vision dating back to 1914, when the largest portion of the site was purchased.

Showered in the heart of the automobile district, it is in an ideal position to attract motorists as well as to render service to Cadillac and LaSalle auto owners.

The building is five stories high and has 250,000 square feet of floor space, approximately six acres. It has a capacity of 500 cars. The Commonwealth ave. frontage of the building alone is 244 feet, and it extends 177 feet along Essex st.

MALDEN MAN DIES FROM AUTO INJURIES

Mr. Vetrov, who conducted a tailor shop in Everett st., for many years, was born in Yalmo, Italy, 51 years ago, and came to the country at the age of 14 and residing ever since in Malden and Everett.

He leaves a widow, five sons and four girls.

12,000 ACCEPT PAY CUT IN PAWTUCKET

Pawtucket, R. I., Dec. 3 (AP)—Approximately 12,000 textile workers in the Blackstone Valley district went to work today with a new wage scale in effect.

Although the new scale was not announced it was generally understood to be a five per cent reduction from the former rates. In line with the reductions made recently in New Bedford and Fall River mills.

No sign of protest was visible as the operatives went to the various mills. In the words of one observer, it was simply another Monday morning.

The twenty members of the United Textile Workers of America, meeting in Ashton, decided to continue work under protest while their representatives conducted negotiations with the mill owners. Total membership in the United Textile Workers in the mills affected was thought to be about 150,000.

$8000 MISSING IN "WITCHCRAFT MURDER"

York, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP)—As officers today continued their investigation of the killing of Nelson Reimann, their conviction was increased, they said, that the motive was robbery, at least so far as John Byrner, the alleged master mind, is concerned.

They said they have faith in the statement given by John Byrner, as to John Curry, 15, he, too, is regarded by them as a tool of Byrner, but willing to take risks in a robbery compact.

Adelman W. F. Owen and Detective Ralph W. Kesch went to the Reimann home and obtained information that the victim kept $800 in a stove jar in the kitchen cupboard. This jar is reported missing.

According to the confessions of the three under arrest, Reimann was relieved by Byrner's family to have cash a spell upon them and that Byrner, alleged "pawnee" doctor, had said if a lock of Reimann's hair could be buried eight feet in the ground the spell would be broken. Byrner, who is 32, and Hise, 18, and Curry, 15, went to Reimann's house and when he refused giving a lock of his hair the three clubbed him to death.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT BOWS ITS CALL TO GOODFELLOWS FOR AID

NEEDERS IN GOOD FELLOW

Christmas day, but three weeks away.

Then the carols, church celebrations, gifts and feasting.

"Peace on Earth; Good Will to Men!"

When the festive day comes, will you, in the midst of your rejoicing, be moved by the thought that you have helped spread the joy of Yuletide among your less fortunate fellow men, women and children?

There isn't much time left to link on the Goodfellow's hand-out and participate in the noble work of being a Santa Claus to some poor person or family.

The annual appeal of the Boston Evening American has brought encouraging response, but many hearts are still left waiting for more Goodfellows to come forward.

DO NOT LET IT BE SAID THAT A SINGLE CASE OF REAL WANT WENT UNHEeded IN GREAT HARTFORD.

Join the Boston Evening American's army of Goodfellows, and help to spread some of the joy that you yourself will experience. Hundreds have registered for this noble work and demands this year are heavier than ever.

There isn't much to be done in order to be a Goodfellow. The money consideration is small. The time element is infinitesimal. You measure it against happiness.

This is the Goodfellow plan of the Boston Evening American. A plan that is plain and simple.

Each year hundreds of letters are received by the Boston Evening American from fathers, mothers and children asking that the Christmas season be made happy for them by the help of Goodfellows.

ENGAGEMENT ELECTIONS IN THE SALES ARE DENIED

Copyright, 1923, by the New York American.

New York, Dec. 3.—The New York American yesterday afternoon telephoned to the household of the Marquess Dourat at Stratfield House, Mortimer, Berkshire, Illinois.

The Marquess's daughter, Lady Anne Madeleine Wellesley, had become engaged to the Prince of Wales.

Lady Anne's election, came to the attention of the Goodfellow Editor, Boston Evening American, Winterport St., Boston.

"But Lady Anne has been ill, hasn't she?"

"Yes, she has been ill, but she is much better now."

"There was a pause. Lady George inquired:

"To what ill?"

"There was a distant air of mystery as Lady George answered the question of an American newspaper as if she knew something of her could also 'let it out.'"

As a matter of fact royal etiquette probably would not sanction any authentic announcement of any kind of an American newspaper as if she knew something of her could also 'let it out.'"

Nevertheless, the possibility that the King George may relinquish his throne, to account for his vast seniority before the King and Queen, has served to discount any attention to the royal line, and to the marked addition to bachelorhood.

IN WELLINGTON LINE

In choosing Lady Anne, who is only 18, the prince would not be marrying 'royalty' but he would be claiming as a wife a descendant of a most illustrious line. Lady Anne's father, the Marquess Dourat, is the eldest son of the fourth Duke of Wellington.

Therefore in her runs that same heroic blood which turned the course of events at the battle of Waterloo, when Napoleon himself perished in the saddle and smothered toward the conquest.

Lady Anne made her debut at the first royal ball of this year.

She is a dark-eyed beauty, whose hair is colored in a mode almost Victorian—being merely parted in the middle and smoothed toward the edges after the manner of the griseous dunes of old, before the kings of Europe tottered on their thrones in the cataclysm of World War.

Young George Wellesley, who responded to this newspaper's request for information, was formerly Lieutenant Viscount Farnham, only daughter of Sir Marianne Fitzgerald.

Her first husband, Capt. Richard Wellesley, was killed in action in the World War, October 29, 1917.

In 1917 she was married to Capt. Richard Wellesley, who had become Brigadier-General in the Royal Air Force and served the World War from 1914.

Got the Goats in Lenox Instead of Deer

Lenox, Dec. 3.—Now that every Berkshire County baby is waiting for the day when he will bring him home a buckskin from the hunt, it's pretty tough on the four things a cold requires: 1—They break up the cold, 2—Check the fever, 3—Open the bowels, 4—Tune the system. That's the complete treatment for a cold and nothing else will do it. As the first sign of a cold, get a box of HILL'S.

Convening of votes in municipal elections will get under way in 17 cities in Massachusetts tomorrow.

While warm fights are being staged in most of the cities where the voters will cast their ballots, perhaps the most colorful fight is in New Bedford, where Mayor Charles B. Ashley is seeking the 24th term as chief executive of the city.

Other cities where there are contests for mayor include Haverhill, Hopedale, Peabody, Pittsfield and Quincy.

Mrs. Elizabeth Towne, editor of an "advanced" magazine, is running for Mayor of Haverhill against Fred G. Burdett, the present mayor, and John F. Cronin, a former mayor.

F. Leo Sullivan, a member of the city council, is seeking to defeat the Rev. Robert A. Bakenham, who is running for re-election in Peabody.

Mayor Bakenham is being attacked for permitting a meeting of the late anarchist sympathizers while the two condemned murderers were awaiting execution.

Mayor Thomas J. McGrath and Charles A. Ross are opposing each other in Quincy. Mayor Jay D. Barnes, Democrat, and Samuel D. Clark, Republican, are contesting for the mayoralty in Pittsfield.

One of the farthest local elections in the state this year, there is a warm contest for mayor of Haverhill between Alderman Perkins R. Pendergast, who is a Socialist, and Forrest W. Smith, a Republican.

Chicopee, Newburyport, Salem and Taunton do not elect mayors this year, but will vote for the members of their city governments.

11 PIGGIES, 3176 POUNDS. SHATTER RECORD

All official records for the heaviest pig in the world have been shattered by the State House pig at Northampton.

The State Department of Agriculture has declared in naming the farm winner of the 1923 contest, which it sponsors.

The 11 pigs in the litter have reached at the age of six months a total weight of 3176 pounds, or an average weight of 288.7 pounds each. The average weight of Massachusetts pigs, ten months heretofore, has been about 180 pounds, according to J. C. Carl of the division of dairying and animal industry.

Cafe Feud Puts 2 Chiefs in Hospital

A fight between two chiefs at a luncheon on the Army Base here, South Boston, resulted in both being hospitalized today.

One of the chiefs, a lady bitten hand and a head wound was treated by eleven stitches, the other with a possible fracture of the skull.

The two are George Davis, 35, of Lexington St., East Boston, and Julius De Palma, 29, of Albany St., Roxbury, according to the police, who also reported that Davis was just being hired to replace the other man when the fight ensued.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

In all cities, no Indian was ever known to have constipation. Nor need you. He cleared the junk of a tree called cascara. Today, too, we have the remedy.

Constituting the bowels never formed an occasional cascara will usually break the habit. For cascara stimulates the muscular walls of the bowels and their need of any aid at all grows constantly less. What other cathartics has this character? The writer knows of none.

An evacuation brought about by cascara will, nine times out of ten, be followed by a feeling of the bowels on the morning and for days after. For there is no REACTION to the sickening salts or any of the man-made purgatives that are usually one's system like a bullet.

Physicians use cascara in the local laxative—and the tongue tells of candy Cascaras are its friend.

B. ST. STREET SODA CASE BROKEN YET

Brockton, Dec. 3.—A burlesque football game by Boston collegians may cost the life of Jerome Darling, 21, junior in the Boston University College of Business Administration. It was announced today at the Brockton hospital, where the youth is reported in a dying condition. The fourth vertebra in his neck is fractured, doctors stated.

With a number of fellow members of the Kappa Gamma fraternity, Darling left Brockton for a service bench at Mattapoisett, using an old pigskin, the students lined up for what they called a burlesque football game.

In a scrimmage Darling was at the bottom of the heap. When the other players arose, Darling lay still. He was found to be unconscious, and was brought to this city for treatment. Doctors thought he might not live more than 24 hours.

Darling's home was in Taunton, Conn., but he has been living at the home of David Roche, on Boston St., N. Attleboro.

Cambridge police started a search for the burglar who made a search for the police last night, after Charles A. Griffin, of 619 Green St., Cambridge, and got away with a suit of men's clothes worth $400 and a pair of men's shoes worth $25.

The police showed that the burglar had broken a pane of glass in a rear cellar door and had "limped" the door to the Griffin apartment.

Edward Murphy, of 619 Green St., reported to the police that he had passed the Green house shortly before the police arrived. He said he saw a man in a suit and a woman in a coat and skirt running from the house.

The flames were extinguished with a $50 hose. Three other families were rushed from bed.

EXPECT LARGE VOTE IN CARMEN'S ELECTIONS

One of the largest votes in the history of the city of New Bedford is expected to be cast at the old Frank Dyer house, when the city of New Bedford is expected to elect a new mayor.

Clark held the office for several terms and is making a strong bid for re-election. He is a member of the city council and is a member of the city council.

Takes the brakes off the pay-check

It's "clear track ahead" and smooth riding for Tracy, since he learned how to take care of himself after exposure to wet and cold. Other pay-envelopes may be short, doctored from three to ten days, other men may be finding themselves out of work because of too many absences—

GIANT FOKKER PLANE WILL SPAN U. S.

By WILLIAM E. BERNHOLD
Associated Press Aviation Editor
The new 22-passenger Fokker plane, designed by the Dutch engineer, will span the United States in a single flight. The plane, which is now being built at the Fokker plant in Amsterdam, Holland, is the largest single-engine airplane ever built. It is 110 feet long, 35 feet high, and has a wingspan of 110 feet. It is powered by a single 1,000-horsepower engine. The plane is designed to fly at a speed of 150 miles per hour. It is expected to be ready for flight in the near future.

OSCAR CALLED "FOOL"

News of Fokker's latest plane spread rapidly among the aviation enthusiasts at the International Aeronautical Exposition, where the announcement was made, and the plane was called a "fool" by some of the designers. The plane is a single-engine biplane, with a wingspan of 110 feet. It is designed to fly at a speed of 150 miles per hour. It is expected to be ready for flight in the near future.

Slashed With Razor

After being found today by his wife, a razor was found in the pocket of a man who was found dead. The man was found in a room at the Hotel Statler. The razor was found in the pocket of a man who was found dead. The man was found in a room at the Hotel Statler.

Country friends. City friends. Far away friends. Near-by friends. Maybe you have many; perhaps only a few.

Your telephone, one of nineteen million in the United States, forms a direct personal link between you and your friends.

Take advantage of this quick, simple, low-cost way of talking with them personally. On birthdays. On wedding anniversaries. At Christmas time. When someone is ill, send words of cheer. When there's news, tell them about it.

The cost of long distance telephoning is surprisingly low. You can telephone half way across the continent for only $5. The most you can pay for a three minute call by number within New England is $2.95. Shorter distances in proportion—and twice the speed of five years ago.

STARTING LAST GALLOP OF BRILLIANT GRIDIRON CAREER

Which would make the upset com-

Knute Rockne announced that Notre Dame would lose at least two games. The coach said that little thing that Knute said to the team, "Well, you know, George, Carnegie Tech and the University of Southern California did jobs on the Irish, what you call a nightmare of the Rockne regime."

"Click Meehan produced a team which appeared to be the greatest of all time at the University of Washington. Georgetown proved to have better mud horses and the Oregon Agriculturalists proved to be a more sectional, championship team than the Washington Huskies."

"Click Meehan aggregation hit through Carnegie Tech, a high school undefeated team, one who had chalked up four wins over Notre Dame in the previous years."

EAGLES IN "ALL" BERTHS
Reference is here made to Maj. Campbell's 1928 eleven, which was awarded the mythical Eastern championship that year. Wherever Boston College men rather the merits of these two great elevens will be debated, but it is sufficient to say that Capt. Richard Campbell and Capt. McQuibb's 1928 team are the two outstanding elevens in Massachusetts.

AROUND THE END

For some 50 yards ran Al Westcott, star B. C. back, late in the game against Holy Cross. This dash by the Eagle star, in his last college game, was one of his greatest feats in four brilliant seasons at the Heights. After the hammering he took for the first three periods, he should have been ready for the hospital when the final quarter started. Instead, he proved better than ever. He tore the great Holy Cross line to shreds from end to end and finally broke through for the ionizing rays of the line of scrimmage. The attached diagrams explain the run from start to finish. Starting back in kicking position, he dashed straight for the center of the line as the other side's players were rushing into the back. Just before reaching the line, he suddenly swerved to the left and, behind great interference, circled the wings. Then he scooted along the side lines. Had he continued straight down the center, the Holy Cross safety man instead of attempting to out-run him and this gave one of the Purple secondaries a chance to bring him down from behind but not until he had traveled at least half the

A Wife's Meditations

By HELEN ROWLAND
ENGLISHMEN, according to the marriage records, are closer the other bride this season. They have discovered that the great peaches in the garden of love are not to be had by the taking of them, but by the giving of them. And are no longer marrying flappers.

One first-class pleasure is to live in peace, peace, and a deck watercom.

Those Englishmen may not be so up to the moment on "loneliness."

They are a strange, but they KNOW their WOMEN.

The American man knows lots of things. He knows how to love, how to win, how to lose, how to get on with his wife, how to get on with his wife, how to get on with his wife.

But there are a hundred things he doesn't know—and 99 of them are WOMEN. What he doesn't know about the whole sex world is a city library.

He doesn't know how to love. He doesn't know how to win. He doesn't know how to lose. He doesn't know how to get on with his wife, how to get on with his wife, how to get on with his wife.

Ever since the day brought on the knowledge of "sex," and the flapper has been busy learning the ways of the world, and the flapper has been busy learning the ways of the world, and the flapper has been busy learning the ways of the world.

Some Advice to Help Out the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
We are three girls. All of us are 18 years of age, but we are not allowed to speak to any boys. Now and then we go out and meet fellows. We know they are nice for they all have very nice reputations. We would like to have them call on us at our homes. Is there any way you can advise us to bring this change about?

We will be very thankful to you. THIS LOVELORN THREE.
HAYD an affectionate talk with your parents and ask whether you may not invite your friends—both girls and boys—to your home now and then. Tell your parents you would love to have them meet boys you know and like and judge whether they are not suitable as friends and companions for you. Girls of sixteen naturally long for and enjoy the companionship of young folks of their own age.

And it is much wiser to meet them friends in your own home, under the protection of your parents, than outside. Keep your friendship wholesome. If you get angry and sentimental and love-sick I do not wonder that your parents object to your associating with boys.

GOOD RADIO IS LIKE A GOOD DINNER

WILL YOU HAVE your evening's entertainment by radio or table d'hôte, Mademoiselle? Do you like to take your fill in lump or to pick and choose, getting the thrill which the true epicure can know? Many a ready-made evening's program provides a fine array of choice good cheer, but the knowing one knows who skip the menu and pick the menu, making their selections with care and thoughtfulness.

UNTIL a luncheon of the radio appears, we must grope in a grab bag. Fortunately, however, we know men by names, and we can pick up something of what may be expected, and we can unlock the floodgates of the ether with some confidence. Tonight, for example, we can look forward to the assurance of gaiety here in the General Motors Hour, with those familiar and attractive faces of the radio.
